LONDON, Aug. 16.—The German high command said an American column was driving eastward within 39 miles of Paris tonight in a new offensive that also menaced Orleans and Tours, as other Allied forces to the north joined in a death battle against remnants of the Nazi 7th Army in the Normandy pocket.

Assemble Data

Preparations For Dom.-Prov. Meet Continue

OTTAWA, Aug. 16.—(CP)—Preparations for the Dominion-Provincial conference, now postponed until after the next federal election, will continue, it was learned yesterday.

For some months, D. A. Skelton, an official of the Bank of Canada, acting as secretary for the conference has been working on an agenda and on assembling statistical and other information considered necessary as a basis of discussion for a rearrangement of Dominion-Provincial financial and other relations after the war.

WELL ADVANCED

The work is believed to be fairly well advanced, but a considerable amount remains to be done and the information on which the conference when it meets will be called upon to act will need to be up-to-date.

The work of preparing for the meeting resolves itself in part to bringing up-to-date the information collected by the pre-war Royal Commission on Dominion-Provincial relations.

That commission, besides making sweeping recommendations regarding the re-distribution of taxing powers and federal subsidies to the provinces, presented the most complete study made up to that time of the financial resources of the different provincial governments in relation to their constitutional responsibilities.

CONDITIONS CHANGED

In the years which have since elapsed economic conditions have changed and altered the picture.

Much of the information is still valid but it needs to be brought up-to-date. The war has brought changes in the national economy which may or may not be permanent. An appraisal of the post-war picture in the light of present conditions calls for the latest figures on revenues, debt, social and educational services and average incomes.

Former Secretary Of State Is Dead

MONTREAL, Aug. 16.—(CP)—Hon. Charles H. Cahan, former secretary of state in the Conservative government of R. H. B. Bennett, died here yesterday in his 83rd year.

Mr. Cahan was born at Yarmouth, N.S. From 1890 to 1894, Mr. Cahan held a seat in the Nova Scotia legislature and in 1896 he ran as a candidate for the House of Commons in Shelburne-Queens, but was defeated.

He first earned a seat in the federal house in 1923 when he won an election contest in Montreal St. Lawrence-St. George, and in 1927 fought a hard campaign for leadership of the Conservative party at the Winnipeg convention when Mr. Bennett won the role.

Mr. Cahan held the seat for St. Lawrence-St. George until the 1940 general election when he was defeated by Brooke Claxton, parliamentary assistant to Prime Minister King.

On Two Fronts

Nazis Take Offensive Against Red Forces

MOSCOW, Aug. 16.—The Germans, admittedly seizing the initiative, hurled their largest forces of the summer campaign against the Red army before Warsaw and East Prussia today in a desperate effort to stabilize the eastern front whatever the cost.

The Soviet high command's communique last night spoke of German "attacks" rather than "counter-attacks" for the first time since the start of the Russian summer offensive, June 22, and conceded that the Nazi forces had wedged into their lines temporarily.

Reeling under crushing blows from both east and west, the Wehrmacht appeared committed to an all-out attempt to plug the holes on the Russian front to prevent Soviet armies from breaking through to Germany while Anglo-American forces were engulfing German troops in France.

Russian Gains

Both north and south of the Warsaw-East Prussian fronts, however, the Russians gained new ground.

Gen. Ivan I. Maslennikov's 3rd Baltic army struck three miles farther into the flank of the German pocket of nearly 300,000 men on the Baltic coast with the capture of Anne 14 miles west of the railway junction of Valga on the Estonian-Latvian frontier and 75 miles from the Baltic.

Marshal Ivan S. Konev's 1st Ukrainian army occupied several unidentified villages in enlarging its bridgehead on the west bank of the Vistula northwest and west of Sandomierz.

Nove's army was credited with killing 140,000 Germans and capturing 32,500 in its phase of the Soviet summer offensive, bringing to 780,000 the number of enemy troops put out of action on all eastern fronts since June 22.

WITH RCAF BOMBER GROUP OVERSEAS.—With a military career behind him that would make a first-class adventure novel, Cpl. John Wolstenholme of Lac la Biche is probably the most be-medalled airman in the RCAF. At 28 the youngest sergeant in the British Army's Western Command, Wolstenholme returned to India, to the turbulent Khyber Pass area. Thence his regiment went to Somaliland, via Egypt, participating in the first expedition against the religious fanatic, the Mad Mullah.

Invasion Forces Storm 8 Miles Inland Along 40-Mile Front

ROME, Aug. 16.—Powerfully reinforced Allied invasion forces stormed eight miles into Southern France on a 40-mile front between Cannes and Toulon against weak German opposition today, while thousands of British and American sky-borne troops struck far inland to throw a solid block across the path of enemy reserves moving down on the beachheads.

German accounts said port installations at Nice, Cannes and St. Tropez had been blown up by Nazi demolition squads, and front dispatches broadcast by Radio Algiers said the Allies had captured Cannes and the village of Croix Des Gardes, just inland from the famous resort.

Barely 24 hours after the initial air and sea invasion that breached the Germans' Mediterranean wall, Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson's headquarters announced that every initial objective had been taken and that the American and French troops were firmly established on the coast between Cannes and the great Toulon naval base.

CASUALTIES LIGHT

Casualties in the first day and night of the assault have been "exceptionally light," a communique said.

The fast rolling assault forces ran into some opposition from German beach troops and coastal batteries last night, but it was announced officially that these defenses had been overrun.

Simultaneously, a great force of British and American paratroops and air-borne infantry Continued on Page 2, Col. 5

GENEVA, Switzerland, Aug. 16.—An army of French patriots launched a full-scale offensive against German occupation forces in the Savoy district of southeastern France today, captured the Nazi stronghold of St. Julien and hoisted the tri-color on every flag post guarding this section of the Franco-Swiss border.

Rifle and machine gun fire and the roar of heavy artillery were clearly audible in the streets of Geneva, and reports from the frontier said the insurrection had won quick and sweeping success over the surprised Germans.

The uprising began at four a.m. today and St. Julien was completely cleared of the Germans by noon.

POSTS QUICKLY SEIZED

All the frontier posts were occupied within a matter of hours, and watchers on the border could see French flags fluttering high over the former German strongholds.

French Partisans Take Dozen Towns

ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Aug. 16.—(AP)—French forces of the interior, using an armored detachment for the first time, have captured nearly a dozen towns and encircled the 1,500 German troops at Palmpont, on the North Brittany coast, 50 air miles west of St. Malo.

Successive communiques today from Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters and from the F.F.I. commander, Lt. Gen. Koenig, told of the fresh successes, most of them in the Brittany peninsula.

Gen. Koenig said his Patriots had captured Ordevan and "throughout the whole of France are giving the enemy no rest."

Headquarters said the French patriots had operated "in close cooperation with other Allied forces." They had entered Sion, Brasparts, Pleyden, Chateaufort, Coray and Milizac and captured by storm Quimperle, Bannales, Chateaulin and Douarnenez.

The communique also said the F.F.I. had annihilated German garrisons at Moulins and Bourg St. Maurice after fierce fighting.

2,000 Planes

Nazi Factories, Airports, Army Units Bombed

LONDON, Aug. 16.—(CP)—Another great armada of 2,000 planes, half of them heavy bombers, smashed today at aircraft and oil plants and airbases in Germany while other hundreds of fliers attacked enemy troops and defenses on the north and south French battlefields.

Targets all were in the Leipzig and Magdeburg area in the very heart of Germany.

Striking from Italy, unescorted heavy bombers bombed strategic rail bridges in Southern France without encountering German planes while other heavyweights bombed a German chemical works at Friedrichshafen.

Berlin was bombed last night with two-ton blockbusters with which RAF Mosquitos disturbed the Nazi capital's sleep.

The German radio said the Reich also was being penetrated by American flights from Italy which were striking over the Alps into the Tyrol of Bavaria.

WIDESPREAD BLOWS

This was the fourth straight day in which the U.S. 8th Air Force had sent 1,000 or more heavy bombers against continental objectives.

Much of the day's efforts again was directed against German air strength in continuance of the campaign to prevent the hebbled Luftwaffe from coming to life in time to fly to the aid of battle-shattered German field armies.

Targets included the Delitzsch air equipment depot, one of the most important in Germany's bomber assembly plants at Schkeuditz and Halberstadt; engine plants at Magdeburg, Dessau and Kothent; synthetic oil plants at Zeitz, Rohlen and Magdeburg; a carbonization and oil refinery at Rostin and a German air force station at Halberstadt.

Allied Troops Are Within 39 Miles of Paris struck frenziedly at the closing wall of British, Canadian and American forces in a last-minute effort to escape.

Thousands of the enemy were killed or captured in the attempt and the German Transoceanic news agency admitted that the next few days or even hours might decide the fate of their surviving comrades.

Shaken by the incessant pounding of Allied planes and shellfire, the broken remnants of Field Marshal Gunther von Kluge's 12 divisions were splitting up in a frantic attempt to escape through the ring of guns and armor tightening around them.

The Canadian 1st army fought its way into the outskirts of Falaise, narrowing the main eastern escape corridor to six miles or less, and front reports indicated that the Germans were trying to break out over secondary roads and sneak through the hedgerows to safety.

PLUS LOOPHOLES

Roving Allied armored patrols raced along the perimeter of the pocket plugging the loopholes in their trap and slaughtering hundreds of the fleeing enemy. More than 4,000 others were rounded up and shunted back to prisoner-of-war stockades during the past 30 hours, some 3,000 falling prisoner to Lt. Gen. H. D. G. Crerar's Canadians and Britons and 1,400 to the Americans.

A correspondent of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation with the Canadians near Falaise reported this morning that Canadian losses were negligible. "The correspondents added: 'It's wonderful to be able to say that, for a change.'"

British United Press War Correspondent Robert C. Miller, with the American 3rd army near Argentan, reported in a delayed dispatch today that the slaughter of von Kluge's army was in full swing last night.

GERMANS TRICKED

Many of the Germans, he said, were tricked by their own commanders into believing that the way to the east was open.

"It is when they try to find this gap that we either kill or capture them," Miller reported.

His dispatch said the Germans were surrendering in small groups of five to 50 men.

Several thousand prisoners already have been bagged by the 2nd Army, Miller said, along with "great quantities" of booty.

Meanwhile, the German DNB news agency reported that reinforced American tank and infantry units had resumed the eastward drive on Paris which was halted more than a week ago when Montgomery shifted the main weight of the American attack northward to aid in encircling the Nazi 7th army.

FIERCE FIGHTING

Fierce fighting is in progress north of Chartres, only 46 miles west-southwest of Paris, DNB said, indicating that the Americans might be by-passing Chartres in a direct thrust on the capital.

The London Evening News quoted reports from the continent as saying that the distant roar of heavy artillery could be heard by the people of Paris today.

There was no confirmation of the enemy report which said American tanks also were in the Nogent Le Rotrou and La Loupe areas just west of Chartres where they were being engaged by German "covering" forces.

If true, the DNB report would mean that the Allied high command was striking out for Paris and the Seine river line without waiting for the completion of the Normandy battle, now in its "annihilation" stage.

FEW NAZIS ESCAPE

Headquarters sources believed that only a relatively small portion of the 100,000-odd Germans originally caught in the Allied net had been able to escape, despite front reports that about half of von Kluge's 12 divisions had broken out in a wild dash through the Falaise-Argentan corridor early yesterday.

These sources indicated that at least 50,000 to 60,000 of the pocketed Nazis were doomed to surrender or death, although it was acknowledged that small bands of enemy infantrymen might manage to escape overland through the closing Allied lines.

Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery poured more men, guns and armor into the fight, throwing British 2nd Army forces against the northern stretch of the pocket while the Canadian 1st army and the American 3rd army hammered wedges deeper into the eastern end.

GUNS SWEEP ALL ROADS

Crerar's Canadians, Britons and Poles swung down more than a mile through a blazing screen of German 88-millimeter guns and anti-tank weapons, capturing dominating heights from which their artillery could sweep virtually every road in the Falaise area.

Simultaneously, Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's American tanks and riflemen pushed slowly north and west of Argentan to within less than six miles of Falaise, meeting savage resistance from German panzer units.

The Germans were reported still clinging to parts of Argentan in their effort to hold open that side of the corridor.

Bitter fighting was reported around Argentan, where American armor had penetrated well to the west and north. Putanges, 10 miles west of Argentan, also fell to the Americans in a quick battle that lasted more than five miles off the southeastern corner of the enemy pocket.

At the opposite end of the trap, British troops from the north and

REPORT PARIS WILD WITH JOY OVER LANDINGS

LONDON, Aug. 16 (CP)—Frontier reports to the London press said this morning that Paris went wild with joy when the news was received of Allied landings in the south of France, and that sporadic fighting between patriots and collaborationists broke out in the streets when crowds assembled singing the "Marseillaise." German police patrols stood by unable to control the demonstration, the reports said.

Allied Fifth Front In Balkans Hinted

By ROBERT DOWSON
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
Copyright, 1944, by British United Press

LONDON, Aug. 16.—German and neutral sources speculated today on the possibility of another Allied landing in southern Europe, probably in Yugoslavia.

Radio Ankara said a landing was expected in the Adriatic, which includes Albania as well as Yugoslavia, while a Berlin dispatch in the Stockholm newspaper, Tidningen, said the Allies probably would open a "fifth front" soon in Dalmatia.

Allied sources declined to comment on the reports, but it was recalled that Prime Minister Churchill conferred with Marshal Tito, commander of the Yugoslav Partisan army, and Dr. Ivan Subasitch, prime minister of Yugoslavia, last Saturday and Sunday in Italy.

Tito's army, comprising 350,000 or more guerrillas, already holds several large sections of Yugoslavia and on many occasions has demonstrated its ability to seize beachheads on the Dalmatian coast on which an Allied invasion army could be put ashore.

Germans Oppose Three Landings

By FRANK CONIFF

ABOARD ADMIRAL HEWITT'S FLAGSHIP, Aug. 16 (AP)—In a four-hour trip along the Mediterranean beaches today I found troops, machines and weapons pouring ashore against Nazi harassment at three different points.

There was some heavy shelling as the Nazis apparently woke up to the new threat, reacting as best they could and forcing the landing craft to hit the beaches behind dense smoke screens.

Other Americans from the south lashed deep into the German defensive perimeter, in a series of fast-rolling thrusts that isolated a half-dozen enemy units and pushed in the Nazi lines as much as three miles.

To the north, Lt. Gen. Sir Miles C. Dempsey's 2nd army drove into Tinchebray and pushed eastward along the top of the pocket, by-passing the strongly-held village of Conde and crossing the Moireau river.

The Americans captured Domfront, La Ferriere and Ger, drove into Yvrand, three miles south of Tinchebray, and farther to the east pushed beyond Rance against strong enemy opposition.

NEARING JUNCTION

Other British units pushed in toward a junction with the Canadian First army troops at the eastern end of the line, capturing Cossesville and Treprel, the latter barely seven miles west of Falaise.

Flying weather over the battle area worsened somewhat early as a storm system moved in from the west, but the attack almost continuously, bombing and strafing the trapped enemy and ranging far to the east to strike at the few elements that managed to slip through the gap yesterday.

R.A.F. Canadian and American fliers flew some 4,000 sorties yesterday, highlighted by a massive strike at the German air force stations in the Reich and the low countries from which the Luftwaffe might attempt to aid the cornered 7th Army.

HOLD OUT AT ST. MALO

Other raiders struck hard at the embattled German garrison holding out in the citadel of St. Malo, on the north coast of Brittany. The Nazi DNB news agency said the township itself fell to the Americans last night after several hours of street fighting, but both sides said the motley garrison inside the citadel still was putting up a furious battle.

There was no change in the situation at Brest or Lorient, where American armored columns were pounding hard at isolated German garrisons trapped in those ports.

General Wilson Directs Forces In South Drive

ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Aug. 16 (CP)—Allied troops invading France from the south are under Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson, commander of the Allied forces in the Mediterranean theatre.

Gen. Wilson's position in the south of France is the same as Gen. Eisenhower's in the west. It was said officially—that of supreme commander.

As the southern France invasion force links up with Allied armies in the west, it would, under normal military procedure, come under the command of the theatre of operations in which its operations are being carried out. However, nothing official was said on this point at the moment.

PATTON IN COMMAND

Headquarters disclosed yesterday that Lt.-Gen. George S. Patton is the commander of the new United States 3rd Army, existence of which was first disclosed officially Monday, and other new details of the Allied organization in the west were made public.

The newly-formed American organization has been named the 12th United States Army Corps, and it is under the command of Lt.-Gen. Omar N. Bradley. This group and all other ground forces in northern France are under the direct field command of Gen. Montgomery.

Gen. Wilson's deputy commander in the Mediterranean is Lt.-Gen. Jacob L. Devers of the United States. Gen. Sir Harold Alexander is in command of the Allied forces in Italy.

Another great force in the west not yet in use is the Allied Airborne Army under Lt.-Gen. Lewis H. Brereton, the creation of which Gen. Eisenhower announced recently.

The announcement of the new American commands came at a press conference at Gen. Eisenhower's command post in Normandy.

8,000 Tons Bombs Blast Nazi Targets

By NED NORDNESS

LONDON, Aug. 16 (AP)—Three thousand Allied planes, two-thirds of them bombers, cast 8,000 tons of explosives on a score of enemy air bases and airdromes in Belgium, Holland and Germany yesterday, while another powerful force of Italian-based heavyweights hopped the Mediterranean to Southern France and blasted a wide path for the new ground invasion there.

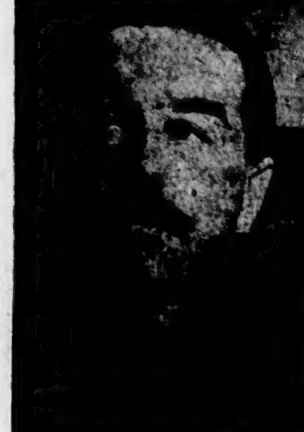

A force of 1,100 R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. Lancasters and Halifaxes and nearly 1,000 American heavies churned up enemy air strips, wrecked buildings and left flaming wrecks of 180 to 270 Nazi planes caught parked on the fields.

Canadian fliers reported seeing many planes burning on runways which had been pocked by bomb explosions.

Fighters escorting the American bombers also destroyed a number of planes on the ground, disabled 62 locomotives, and destroyed or damaged 188 railway cars.

which lies directly on the Franco-Swiss border.

Advices from the frontier said the partisan leaders sent out secret mobilization orders to their underground army throughout Savoy Sunday night, barely 36 hours before the Allied invasion of southern France, less than 200 miles to the south.

By LOUIS NEVIN

MADRID, Aug. 16 (AP)—French patriots, spurred to fighting action by Allied landings in Southern France, have begun what may be their final offensive against demoralized German garrisons in the path of the invading armies, advices from the interior said last night.

At the same time, Vichy's civil administration was tottering throughout southern and central parts of the country, with collaborators hurriedly surrendering their positions.

A few hours after the Allies landed, Maquis forces sent an ultimatum to the German commander at Pau, near the Spanish frontier, and while it was ignored it was understood the commander was asking for permission to withdraw.

MAQUIS IN CONTROL

A neutral diplomat arriving at Pau from Pau by automobile last night said he would have been unable to make the trip were he not known to Maquis leaders so completely they are in control.

Reports reaching Pau, said the landings were the signal for the Maquis to attack under a pre-arranged plan, and by sundown a score of towns had been surrounded, including Auch, Agen, Montauban, Rodez, Perigueux, Tulle, Aurillac and Limoges.

Serious resistance was expected at Limoges, just south of the Loire river defenses. The other towns mentioned were manned by garrisons of less than 1,000 each.

Even Toulouse, capital of the whole south-central area, was threatened. The German commander there issued an ultimatum, but the Germans are believed to have several thousand troops in that key city. It was not known whether the Germans had decided to fight or move out.

LONDON, Aug. 16 (AP)—Complete disorganization of German communications throughout France was claimed by authoritative French sources yesterday as patriot forces struck with increasing intensity to assist the Allied invasion in the south and the sledge-hammer blows in the west.

The Independent French News Agency reported from Bern that 10,000 French patriots were "advancing toward Vichy" and that hundreds more were joining them as they pushed ahead.

MOVE ON BORDEAUX

The agency said six other detachments of French forces of the interior were moving on Bordeaux. The dispatch did not say where the patriots were coming from or how they were armed.

A communique issued through the French press service reported that French forces of the interior killed 800 Germans, wounded 200 and took 100 prisoners during the last 24 hours while seizing the towns of Breton, Serignac, Lannion and La Clarte, in Brittany.

The report said the delivery of equipment from factories working on German production had been halted by sabotage.

Former U.S. Envoy Joins French Army

ALGIERES, Aug. 16 (AP)—William C. Bullitt, 33, former United States ambassador to France, Monday joined the French army as a commander, equivalent to the rank of major in the United States army, the French Information ministry announced yesterday.

Mr. Bullitt, an honorary citizen of a number of French towns, said his offer of active military duty had been rejected twice by the United States secretary of war, Henry Stimson, because of his age.

REGINA, Aug. 16 (CP)—Dr. Henry E. Sigerist, internationally known doctor, will head the committee of four appointed by Premier T. C. Douglas to undertake a survey of Saskatchewan medical and hospital facilities.

The other three members are all Saskatchewan residents: Clarence Gibson, Regina general hospital superintendent; Dr. J. Lloyd Brown, Regina child specialist; and Mrs. Ann Heffel, Regina school nurse. Secretary will be Dr. Mindel Sheps, Winnipeg.

The premier said Dr. Sigerist would arrive early in September and he hoped the committee would get under way by September 5.

Its job will be to survey all of the province's medical and hospital facilities, preparatory to instituting some of the government's plans for increased health services. No details of the government plans have yet been announced but it is likely a permanent health commission will be appointed later.

Crops in Alberta Need Hot Weather

CALGARY, Aug. 16 (CP)—Hot, dry weather is needed to hasten maturity of Alberta grain crops, according to the weekly report of the Alberta Wheat Pool, issued yesterday.

During the past week rain covered most of central and northern Alberta, and districts in the south.

The moisture has aided late crops and pastures.

Harvesting is well underway in the south-eastern corner of the province and wheat cutting is expected to be general in most other parts of the south in about a week. Yields have been reduced considerably in some southern localities by savely infestation. Heavy winds have broken off the damaged grain, and fields are being cut on the green side to prevent further loss from this source.

Contrary to popular belief, fewer accidents occur in the bath-room than in any other area of the house, but they are apt to be more serious.

were revealed to have been landed far ahead of the main striking force last evening to support the original sky troops who spearheaded the invasion before dawn yesterday.

Unopposed by the strangely dormant Luftwaffe, hundreds of gliders and transports streamed boldly across the French coast before nightfall yesterday and sent thousands of fighting men out onto the network of highways over which the Germans must move their armor and infantry if they are to mount an important counter-attack.

30-MILE GLIDER FLEET

The glider fleet was described officially as 30-miles long, indicating that the Allies were throwing a major blow into the heart of the Germans' rear defences.

It was announced officially that the air-borne units had established themselves "successfully" across the highways funneling into the Toulon-Cannes beachhead front and had blocked off the flow of enemy reinforcements.

Wave upon wave of Allied warplanes flew across the battle area, bombing and machine gunning the stunned Nazi defenders and blasting their fortifications.

GREAT INVASION FLEET

With complete command of the seas and skies, fully equipped French and American reinforcements were streaming ashore from a mighty transport fleet in what was described officially as "great" strength.

At least five unnamed towns were known to be in Allied hands this evening and there was no sign that the Germans had yet been able to offer more than isolated resistance.

Giant navy rifles of the Allied fleet, firing over the heads of the advancing Allies, devastated the Nazi's island defences.

(Radio London said one correspondent had been 20 miles inland behind Cannes and saw French paratroops who landed safely before dawn yesterday. Engineers and equipment for building and repairing airfields were among the first cargoes put ashore, the broadcast said.)

BLOW UP HARBORS

(A German Transoceanic Agency dispatch said port establishments at Nice, Cannes and St. Tropez had been blown up by the Nazis. "Violent fighting" was raging immediately behind the landing places, the dispatch said.)

(A German DNB dispatch said the "centre of gravity" in the assault appeared to be near Toulon, across the bay just south-west of Cannes, while a CBS broadcast from Rome asserted that the Allies had begun a battle for the port of St. Tropez, midway between Cannes and Toulon.

Major air-borne forces were dropped near Le Muy, nine miles inland, from Frejus and St. Raphael, DNB said.)

Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson, Supreme Allied commander in the Mediterranean, reported in his second communique of the invasion that operations were "proceeding according to plan," but gave no details.

DRIVE ON TOULON

Allied forces were revealed officially last night to be within 28 miles of Toulon and unconfirmed reports placed them within nine miles of the great naval base in a drive to outflank or envelop it.

A front dispatch disclosed that five towns, including one of 3,000 persons, five miles inland, fell to the invaders in the first six and a half hours of the landings yesterday. Prisoners were being rounded up in batches of 20 or more and were of all ages, the dispatch said.

Some ground forces were believed already to have linked up with British and American air-borne troops landed behind the Germans' coastal defences by parachute and glider for a thrust up the Rhone valley toward Lyon and Paris. Allied bombers attacked Valence airdrome, in the Rhone valley, 57 miles south of Lyon, last night.

AERIAL UMBRELLA

Heavy, medium and light bombers, as well as fighter-bombers, provided a continuous air umbrella for the 1,000 ships and hundreds of air transports and gliders pouring reinforcements, armor and equipment into southern France. Beach defences, troops concentrations, bridges, airdromes and other military objectives were bombed, shelled and strafed.

Three enemy aircraft were destroyed and 20 Allied planes were lost.

troys and 20 Allied planes were lost.

German resistance stiffened in some sectors, forcing landing craft to go into the beaches under cover of a dense smoke screen, but elsewhere continued sporadic to non-existent.

Sky trains of gliders, some of them 100 to 150 miles long, ferried in air-borne reinforcements, while Allied navies provided a virtual bridge of ships from Italy, North Africa, Corsica and Sardinia to the French coast. Some of them were fresh from participating in the invasion of Normandy.

"The steady build-up of the army by the Allied navies and merchant navies is proceeding smoothly," a naval communique said.

GET REINFORCEMENTS

"Reinforcements with all their guns, mechanical transport, food and other miscellaneous equipment are rapidly being landed in fine weather. The work continues by night as well as by day."

Front dispatches estimated the number of troops put ashore in the first 12 hours alone in the tens of thousands and said tanks, guns and jeeps already were rolling inland from the beaches on a 40-mile front.

Headquarters revealed yesterday that one force had captured Cap Negre, 26 miles east of Toulon, and an unconfirmed broadcast by the clandestine Radio Atlantic asserted other troops had cut the Marseille-Cannes road near Hyeres, nine miles east of Toulon, and effected a junction with paratroops 12½ miles behind the Argens.

FIGHTING ON ARGENS

(A Paris broadcast said heavy fighting was taking place on both sides of the Argens river, which empties into the Mediterranean west of Frejus.)

Morning newspapers in London quoted an American broadcast from Rome that Liberty ships were unloading at Cannes itself, but this appeared premature.

Headquarters sources said the landing strip included many beaches between Nice and St. Raphael, 32 miles to the southwest, as well as rocky cliffs that stretched almost to the water's edge.

Reconnaissance reports and field dispatches agreed that the early stages of the invasion were "a pushover" in most sectors, though one dispatch said some opposition apparently had developed on the eastern side of the beachheads, toward Cannes.

HEAVY GOING

Shelling and bombing continued from the eastern sector long after it had ceased elsewhere, the dispatch said, and it looked as though the going was hard.

The success of the landings on the western end of the beachhead area was assured by American Rangers and French commandos who slipped ashore on Port-Cros and Levant islands off Cap Negre shortly after midnight yesterday, scaled high cliffs and overwhelmed and slit the throats of crews manning the formidable gun batteries guarding the coasts.

On one island 240 Germans were captured, while Allied casualties were only two men wounded.

Allied casualties on the beaches of the mainland also were described as "exceedingly light," with one beach reporting only six persons wounded and those not seriously.

Juveniles Break Into Club House

Juveniles, believed to have been led by a 16-year-old youth who was described as the ringleader, broke into the Gyro park clubhouse during the last week and damaged contents, according to city police. After gaining entry the paraders scattered some rotten eggs about the premises.

Suffers Seizure

Edward Thompson, 32-year-old veteran of the First Great War, resident of 10359 96 street, was admitted to the Milderford hospital shortly after 10:30 p.m. Tuesday, after he had collapsed on a city street. Mr. Thompson, a pensioner, was believed to have suffered a heart attack.

Defences Smashed Germans 'Fight Like Wolves' As Canucks Close on Falaise

By ROSS MUNRO
WITH THE 1ST CANADIAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 16.—(CP)—A Canadian officer said last night Falaise might be entered within a matter of hours as troops of the 1st Canadian Army pushed forward through German defences which appeared to be disintegrating.

Canadian guns are shelling the area all around Falaise, hammering roads that lead to and from the city and provide the Germans with a hazardous escape corridor from the pocket in which they have been caught to the west.

The Canadians are driving on the town from the north and northwest, with troops in the latter sector approaching from the Laitz river valley. By late afternoon they were reported near Ussy, four miles from Falaise on a good road.

HEAVILY SHELLED

Yesterday afternoon I watched Canadian tanks and infantry going forward rapidly along roads leading through the Laitz river valley northwest of Falaise. Great concentrations of Canadian artillery sent shells hurtling over their heads into German positions.

The guns were set among stacks of freshly-cut wheat and a prairie soldier, wiping his moist forehead under the baking sun, remarked: "This is real threshing weather—but we aren't threshing wheat this time."

Lieut. Forbes McLaughlin, 29, of Ganges Harbor, Salt Spring Island, B.C., said that although there was no firm line of defence the fighting was "damn tough", and another officer just back from forward areas said "The Nazis are fighting like bloody wolves all the way."

MORE SURRENDERING

More and more Germans appeared to be surrendering, however. Yesterday Polish troops finally cleaned out the forest of Quessay, east of the Falaise highway, where the Germans had resisted despite endless bombing and shelling.

The Laitz Valley west of the highway is hilly and wooded, with steep banks leading down to cool, fast-flowing rivers. It is a hard country to fight through for it favors the defenders, but the Canadians penetrated with great speed.

Fighting in all sectors of the advance was particularly heavy Monday and there were losses on both sides.

It is difficult to piece together a complete story of Monday's fighting as many tanks are still in the line, but apparently at 11:42 a.m. Canadian tanks moved off from a start line between Robert Mesnil and Cauvicourt, east of the highway. They went ahead of the infantry and remained ahead until mid-afternoon, when foot-troops pushed past them to take on German infantry positions.

FIRST NAZI BREAK

The first break in German resistance came after noon when the Germans began surrendering in an area around Soignolles.

"They just stayed and fought until we got to them," said Lieut. McLaughlin. "They just threw down their weapons and came out in front of an Ontario tank regiment."

"The Jerries have been coming back all day. There are hundreds of them in the fields around here."

McLaughlin did not cross the Laitz river line until yesterday and said that nearer to Falaise "the Germans certainly were contesting ground" with pockets of tanks, guns and submachine guns (multi-barrelled mortars).

Canuck Bombers Join in Assault On Foe Airfields

LONDON, Aug. 16.—(CP)—Two large forces of Canadian Halifaxes and Lancasters joined a great bomber command armada to blast German airfields in Belgium and the Netherlands yesterday in the face of heavy anti-aircraft fire.

Airmen, many of whom returned with flak holes in their aircraft, reported seeing German planes burning on the airfields during the attack and said runways were pocked with bomb craters.

Among Canadian squadrons participating were the Ghost, which bombed an airfield near Sousterberg, Belgium, the Tiger, Alouette, Bluenose, Goose and Moose.

One RCAF bomber failed to return.

Dewey Says F.D.R.'s Trip a "Holiday"

ALBANY, N.Y., Aug. 16.—(AP)—Gov. Dewey last night classified a "holiday" President Roosevelt's trip to Hawaii and the Aleutian Islands which Mr. Roosevelt said he undertook as a part of his constitutional duties.

Asked at a news conference about the journey, during which the President accepted a fourth-term nomination from a Pacific naval base, inspected Pearl Harbor naval installations and returned from Alaska to address the country by radio from the deck of a destroyer, the Republican presidential nominee said tartly:

"I didn't comment on Mr. Roosevelt's holidays."

"Do you use that expression, 'holidays,' advisedly?" a reporter asked. "Why, surely," Mr. Dewey replied. Mr. Dewey declined to elaborate.

Negroes Attack Italians in U.S.

SEATTLE, Aug. 16.—(AP)—Twenty-four Italian, members of a service unit at Fort Lawton, were injured in an attack by negro troops Monday night, the army's Seattle port of embarkation command announced yesterday.

The body of one Italian was later found hanging from a nearby tree: Fort Lawton is a unit of the port of embarkation command and the Italian service unit, made up of former prisoners of war who pledged allegiance to the Allied cause, were barracked there.

The statement, which was the only information available last night, said the attack occurred about midnight Monday and lasted but a few minutes. The negroes, who attacked with rocks, were not identified except that they were soldiers.

All of the injured Italians were taken to the hospital. Several of the attackers were less seriously hurt.

The statement did not say that the Italian found hanging, whose name was Guchielmo Olivanti, was hanged by the attacking party.

Fires Still Serious

In New Brunswick

MINTO, N.B., Aug. 16.—(CP)—Diminishing wind temporarily lessened the menace of forest fires in central and eastern New Brunswick but the situation remained serious last night. Minto and nearby settlements still faced potential threats. About 72 homes have been destroyed in sections adjoining this mining community and more than 300 persons have been removed from their homes since the fires sprang up Sunday.

Noble, Valorous People Archbishop of Florence Thanks Canada for Aid

By BILL BOSS
FLORENCE, Aug. 16.—(CP)—A message to the "Noble and valorous people of Canada," and expressing thanks to them for sending their sons to liberate Italy has been issued by Ella Cardinal Della Costa, Archbishop of Florence.

"Canada is a country of special interest for me," the cardinal said yesterday in an interview. He said he hoped Canada and the Allies would help Italy to re-establish herself both materially and in the old place in their friendship.

The cardinal said he was a friend of Cardinal Villeneuve of Quebec. Both were nominated to the College of Cardinals at the same time and received their red hats from Pope Pius XI in the same ceremony at St. Peter's.

The cardinal had an important role in the city's attempt to preserve intact its art treasures and before the Germans withdrew the cardinal and a delegation of civil officials prevailed upon Kesselring to seek permission from his superiors to send a deputation to the front for discussions on the matter with Gen. Alexander.

The group waited for a reply—and got it when the Germans blew up eight of the nine bridges across the Arno and destroyed buildings around the Ponte Vecchio in order to block that structure.

U.S. Senate Modifies Soldier Vote Law

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—(AP)—Spurred by a widespread outcry, the United States Senate voted yesterday to modify the "political propaganda" ban and permit American soldiers and sailors to pick their own newspapers, magazines and books, so long as they are generally circulated and the services can deliver them.

It passed a soldiers' vote law amendment which also lowers the bars affecting films and radio programs, including political speeches. It sets up impartiality as the guide in the selection of films and broadcasts for the services.

Under army and navy interpretations of the existing law, a list of publications and movies had been banned on the ground that they incited material calculated to affect the November general election vote.

The amendment approved by Senator Robert Taft (Rep., Ohio), author of the present restrictions, came out of committee with unanimous backing. The Senate quickly passed it on a voice vote. Now it goes to the House of Representatives.

Wheat Stocks Total 296,540,535 Bushels

OTTAWA, Aug. 16.—(CP)—Stocks of Canadian wheat in store or in transit in North America at midnight Aug. 10 totalled 296,540,535 bushels, compared with 297,931,923 on Aug. 3 and 383,354,760 on the corresponding date last year, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday. Stocks on the latest date included 277,027,493 bushels in Canadian positions and 19,513,042 in United States positions.

Dies of Wounds

WINNIPEG, Aug. 16.—(CP)—Maj. Clare W. Ferguson, 36, second in command of the Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders of Winnipeg now fighting in Normandy, has died of wounds, his widow was advised here yesterday. Forces Regrouped New Offensive by Allies In Italy Is Drawing Near

By DOUG HOW
WITH THE EIGHTH ARMY IN ITALY, Aug. 16.—(CP)—The second phase in the summer campaign in Italy will fall soon upon the German divisions that have gathered themselves together after the storms of May and June and made July and early August days of plodding unspectacular advance for the Allied armies.

Gen. Alexander himself pressed these forthcoming actions in the message to his troops that told of "an extensive regrouping in order to proceed with the second and perhaps final stage of the destruction of the German armed forces in Italy." But the frontline soldier could feel them coming before his chief told him so.

The great drive had lost its momentum. Most of the fruits had been plucked from one of the best-planned, best-executed battles of the entire war. The German who had fled 150 miles north from Rome in a month had been a stern enemy, fighting masterful rearguard actions in excellent defensive country since the third week of June.

The Apennines loomed ahead for the last time and the Germans were preparing their Gothic line along its rugged heights. Some of the Allied divisions, like the South Africans, had been in the line two months of the broiling Italian summer and they were growing tired. The front line soldier thought something must be coming.

The logical layman's conclusion to be drawn from Gen. Alexander's words is that he is preparing his divisions for the battle of the Gothic line. Any great immediate land action must bring them into conflict with these mountainous positions.

To turn against the impending blow the Germans are known to have at least 26 divisions in Italy. Six divisions have been drawn to the theatre since the assault on the Gustav line began May 11 and a more generous flow of reinforcements has been coming through the Brenner Pass recently.

VARIETY OF TROOPS

To fling into the impending actions Gen. Alexander still has the most heterogeneous collections of divisions on any front in the world. Three of the campaigning months of summer have gone and three more loom ahead with the responsibility for him of ensuring that he still has enough divisions in trim to wage successful war if necessary, in October.

Under his command he has had British, American, French continental and colonial, Canadian, Polish, New Zealand, South African, Indian, and Italian troops and now come the untried Brazilians.

Patriots Reported Marching on Vichy

LONDON, Aug. 16.—(AP)—The A.F.I. (Independent French Agency) reported from Bern yesterday that 10,000 French patriots were "advancing toward Vichy," and that hundreds more are joining them as they push ahead. The dispatch said other detachments of French forces of the interior were advancing on Bordeaux. It did not say where the patriots were coming from or how they were armed.

22 Canadian Navy Officers Given Awards

OTTAWA, Aug. 16.—(CP)—Twenty-two Canadian naval officers and ratings have been decorated and mentioned in dispatches for hard-hitting, pre-invasion channel sweeps and success against a German U-boat, naval headquarters announced here yesterday.

Ten officers and men of the Canadian destroyer Haida were listed for a channel engagement in which a German destroyer was driven on the rocks in flames and 12 officers and ratings of the destroyer St. Laurent, the frigate Swansea and the corvette Owen Sound for a U-boat kill on the North Atlantic convoy route.

No citations were given.

Every day 400,000 gallons
GO INTO THIN AIR!

Air power eats up gasoline—on a scale never known before. Every day R.C.A.F. airfields here in Canada consume an average of more than 400,000 gallons; in one 30-day period alone they used an average of 548,000 gallons a day. It takes as much aviation gasoline to train one pilot as to run a car for 18 years.

Air power eats up gasoline: In one day's raid on the German cities of Wilhelmshafen and Dusseldorf, approximately 5,000,000 gallons were used. Three tons of aviation gasoline are needed to "deliver" every one-ton bomb. Every Mosquito that raids Berlin consumes 900 gallons. The equivalent of your year's "AA" ration would last a Lancaster bomber only 1/2 an hour!

Air power eats up gasoline: In this war the demand for aviation fuel alone exceeds the total demand for all petroleum products during the last war. Here in Canada this demand has jumped from 5,453,930 gallons in 1939 to 176,298,570 gallons in the year ended March 31, 1944—more than 32 times as much!

Air power eats up gasoline: Yet the needs of the Air Forces are only part of the story. In every field of war activity petroleum powers the attack. The Army needs it... the Navy needs it... war industry, agriculture, essential transportation operators need it. And every single drop of it must come from the same common pool as the gasoline for your car.

Can you wonder that there is a very real shortage of gasoline here in Canada? Can you wonder that there is little gasoline left for civilian use? Can you wonder that a very real need exists for stringent economy by every gasoline and fuel oil user? Remember—every gallon we can go without here at home means that much more for the fighting man!

Answering
YOUR QUESTIONS about the
GASOLINE SHORTAGE

Does the manufacture of aviation gasoline reduce the production of automobile gas? ... Yes over twice as much petroleum is needed to make a gallon of 100 octane aviation gas as to make automobile gas. Why do aircraft need 100 octane gasoline? ... It enables them to take-off and climb more quickly; it increases speed and range; it enables them to fly higher and carry a heavier bomb load. How much aviation gas is needed to ferry a bomber from Canada to England? ... Over 2,500 gallons.

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

WILBUR RAY'S performance at Renfrew against Dodgers on Tuesday night, ranks with the best pitching efforts in the senior circuit this season. In winning his four straight games, the big right-hander for the Yanks has allowed just eight earned runs in 34 innings. He has 26 strikeouts to his credit and has given only 10 walks.

Bob Sawyer, of U.S. Signals—now back from his furlough—also a four-straight winner, has yielded only three runs in 39 innings and he has struck out 34 and given eight bases on balls. He pitched a four-hit shutout against Arrows on August 5, and Walter Johnson of the Dodgers, blanked Arrows with a three-hit shutout on August 2.

Tommy Brant tossed a three-hit job at Signals on August 8, but his opponents scored one unearned run. In the opening game of the season, Wayne Adams pitched Yanks to a six-hit shutout over Signallers.

Ray's win over Dodgers last night is the first shutout recorded against that club this year. Ab Superstein, who picked up two of the four hits his team made off Ray, added one stolen base to his collection and is now one ahead of Columbus Burchfield with a total of 13. Jim Junker, of Signals, however is still out in front with 14.

Greco Impressive In Scoring Kayo Over New Yorker

MONTREAL, Aug. 16.—(CP)—Showing an impressive two-fisted attack, Johnny Greco of Montreal, last night stroked Ernie (Cat) Robinson of New York, in 253 of the fourth round of a scheduled 10-round feature bout here. Greco weighed 144½ to Robinson's 143.

Making his first appearance before a hometown crowd since getting his medical discharge from the Canadian army, Greco looked an improved fighter over the lightweight who earned a decision over New York Terry Yong in his last major fight attraction.

Robins went down for short counts in the first three rounds, as Greco repeatedly caught him on the ropes and belabored his body with smashing right and left crosses.

Greco readied Robinson for the pay-off blow when he sent a straight left to the heart and as the New Yorker reeled, Greco sent him to the canvas with right and left-handed blows to the head.

At no time during the fight did Robinson hold the upper hand over the Montreal boy. Greco, fighting in a new bracket, seemed to carry the weight well and displayed something new in his artillery in a strong left hand.

In the semi-final, Harry Jeffra of Baltimore, stopped Domingo Diaz of Porto Rico in the sixth round of what was to have been an eight-round fight.

Officers Score In Last of 9th To Beat Moose

An error at first base, a sacrifice by Mark Marlock and a single to short field by Jerry Verant in the last of the ninth at Kingsway Park Tuesday night allowed Lloyd Simodines to score and give the USAF Officers a 4-3 victory over Moose in a City Men's Fastball League fixture.

Leo Cherot and Mike Milner hooked up in a tight pitching duel, the latter only allowing four safeties while striking out six, but an unearned run in the last of the ninth after Moose had tied it up in the top half of the same inning cost Cherot a game in which he turned in a nice effort. He allowed eight hits and fanned four.

Trailing 3-1 going into the last half of the eighth, the U.S. club pushed across two counters to go ahead. Moose then tied it up in the ninth, but the Americans came through in the last to win.

Tennis Trophy Changes Hands

The Civil Service Tennis Club once more are in possession of the Kavanagh tennis trophy, emblematic of the Alberta men's doubles championship. The winners hail from across the border, lanky George Schmidt of Brooklyn and Bob Hoiles of California.

The Americans found the Glenora defenders of A. F. J. Mitchell and partner, LAC. Leo Lemieux a trifle off their game, although they did manage to start out in good fashion. They won the first set 6-2, only to lose the remaining sets at the reverse end of the score, 2-6, 2-6 and 2-6.

The Civil Service representatives stormed the net to good effect, and had a strong advantage in back court play. They played steadily throughout and were worthy winners.

The next challengers will be the Glenora pair of "Shorts" Purcell and Tudor Edmunds, the original and several times winners of this event. This international and inter-club struggle is billed for Civil Service Tennis Club, 6:30 Monday, Aug. 21.

Lawn Bowling

The City Lawn Bowling Association's annual doubles competition will be held on Thursday and Friday evenings of next week, with the finals set for Saturday.

Nelson, McSpaden

Top Qualifying List

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 16.—(AP)—Byron Nelson, the Toledo, O., shotmaker, and his buddy, Harold McSpaden of Philadelphia, ran one-two Tuesday in the 36-hole qualifying trials of the 1944 United States Professional Golfers Association championship.

Nelson, the tournament favorite, was in the last threesome to finish and he took the Manila course to pieces with a 69 to win medal honors with a two-round total of 138, six under par. His score yesterday was the same as Monday—36 on the front nine and 33 on the back stretch. It gave him a two-stroke extra hole to stay in the tournament.

Harry Cooper of Minneapolis three-putted himself out of the tournament on the 18th hole of his round yesterday.

Cooper wasn't the only big timer left out. Olin Dutra of Los Angeles, former United States Open and P.G.A. champion, failed to qualify.

Trailing Nelson and McSpaden was Sam Byrd, the ex-New York Yankee baseball player, who brought in a neat 69 to couple to his opening round 72 for a 141.

He shared a third-spot tie with Joseph Zbarbati of Norristown, Pa., one of the surprise performers.

Willie Goggin, White Plains, N.Y., was an easy qualifier at 70-72, just ahead of Craig Wood of Maroon, N.Y., who holds the United States Open title for the duration. Wood made a fine comeback after Monday's 74 to click with a 69 for his two-round 143.

The first-round leader, Fred Anson of Mamaroneck, N.Y., who topped the field Monday with his 68, four strokes under par, found his putter failed him in the pinches Tuesday. The result was a 40 on the outgoing nine and 37 coming home against par 36-36—72 but his 145 enabled him to qualify easily.

Big Service Track Meet Set for Stadium Saturday

What promises to be one of the biggest inter-service track and field meet ever staged here, is being held at Clarke Stadium Saturday afternoon. Teams from as far away as North Battleford, Sask., have entered in this event.

In addition to entries from HMCS Nonsuch, No. 4 Initial Training School and Northwest Air Command in Edmonton and from No. 13 SFTS at North Battleford, full teams will be sent from No. 36 SFTS, Penhold, and the Canadian Army basic training centres of Wetaskiwin and Camrose.

It is also expected that representatives from the army centres at Red Deer and Wainwright will also be participating in this meet, the last one to be held in Edmonton this season.

Following is the list of events as scheduled for Saturday:

Men: 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, 440, 880, mile, 3 mile, medley relay, 110 yard relay, shot put, discus, pole vault, high jump, running broad jump.

Girls: 60 yard dash, 100 yard dash, relay, standing broad jump, high jump.

The starting time of this meet will be announced during the next few days.

In preparation for the meet No. 4 ITS will run off a station track and field meet on Thursday, August 17th, at the University Stadium, starting time 2 o'clock. Some real competition is expected and the public is cordially invited to attend. There will be no admission charge for this meet at No. 4 ITS.

Tennis Meeting Thursday Night

All Edmonton and district tennis clubs are reminded to have their representatives attend the association's meeting to be held at the Glenora club, Thursday, Aug. 17th, at 8:30 p.m. for election of officers and tournament arrangements.

Tournament dates have been set tentatively for week commencing August 26th at the Glenora tennis club.

Exceptionally keen interest is shown and a large entry is expected.

Wilbur Ray Chalks Up Fourth Win

WILBUR RAY set the Dodgers down with four hits and the Yanks marked up a 4-0 shutout in Tuesday night's Senior Baseball League game at Renfrew Park. The U.S. Army club now holds slightly over a game lead in the race for the bye in the coming playoffs, with four left to play as against two for Dodgers.

Ray pitched superbly, keeping the four hits scattered and striking out nine while giving up a single walk. Only three Dodgers faced him in five innings and just three got beyond first base during the entire game. It was the fourth straight win for the big Yank chucker.

Ab Superstein, who collected two of his team's four hits reached first and Doug Stevenson, first man up in the fourth frame smashed out a triple, but died on third.

Tommy Brant worked for Dodgers and only one of the four Yank runs was earned, the other three coming directly from errors. Eight hits were made off Brant and all of the runs counted against him came with two out.

Hits by Pete Meyers and Ralph Schumacher along with a walk to Al Goodrich and a passed ball plus a fielder's choice on Gino Valentini's ground ball filled the bases in the second, but Brant struck out Ray to retire the side.

With two down in the third inning, Roush got a life when Morgan juggled his grounder and John Galvin sent him to third with a single into centre field. Meyers flied out to Superstein.

Superstein was the first Dodger to reach first, a single to left field in the third doing the trick. Goodrich tried to pick the Dodger centre-fielder off first and threw high, allowing him to go on to second. Brockie flied out to Dorsky, but Superstein went on to third on Brant's out-Schumacher to Meyers. Green struck out.

Stevenson's triple came in the third, but Ray struck out both Ottem and Morgan and Robinson flied out to Burchfield.

The break for the Yanks came in the fifth. After Ray had grounded out, Burchfield singled to left and when Dorsky hit to Stevenson at short, it looked from the stands as if a double play had been completed. Umpire Bob Coxford, however ruled that Burchfield was safe at second, although calling Dorsky out at first.

Roush walked and Burchfield scored from second when Galvin hit safely into centre. Meyers then lifted a high fly behind short and Stevenson let it get away from him and both Roush and Galvin scored on the error. The Dodger shortstop also made an error on Valentini's ground ball, but Meyers got no farther than third and then Schumacher flied to Baldwin for the third out.

Dodgers' last hit was Superstein's in the eighth. Ab went to second on Brockie's infield out and stole third, but died there.

Yanks picked up their fourth run in the ninth. With two away, Roush singled to left and stole second. Galvin hit to Stevenson at short and when the throw to first was wide, Roush scored.

Cuts Time For 6½ Furlongs

Amsterson Sets Track Record In Tuesday's Feature Race

The six and one-half furlongs record for the Edmonton Exhibition track was shattered for the second time during the present 10-day race meet when Amsterson covered the distance on Tuesday in one minute, 20 4-5 seconds to cut three-fifths of a second off the mark set by K. Cookie on August 7. This record breaking effort was in the fifth and feature, the Victory Handicap.

The five-year-old son of Amsterson and May Ella, owned and trained by E. Johansen of Calgary steadily improved his position from the half to win. Jockey Bob Taves took him to the outside for the stretch drive and he came up fast to pass Bragabot, Ron Pilot, and then edged out K. Cookie with the final stride by a nose in a race that called for a photo finish.

Amsterson was running as part of the E. and Mrs. E. Johansen entry in the race and paid $5.50 for a $2 straight ticket, the second longest price of the card that saw four public choices get down in front. Calla Donna made up the other half of the entry.

BIGGEST PRICE ON MR. BO

Largest payoff of the day was on the seventh when Mr. Bo, a seven to two shot won by a good three and one half lengths over Saphi. The quinella on Mr. Bo and Saphi returned $15.90.

One of the best races was run by Shifty Sue, winner of the second. With Jim Braddish aboard, she broke from the starting gate first and steadily increased her lead to finish seven lengths ahead of Kingbrook who fought gamely, but was never a threat to Miss P. Swallow's filly.

Attendance and mutual handle remained high as the meet-neared an end. Over 4,000 fans wagered a total of $79,744 on the seven races. Biggest play was on the sixth.

The quinella pool grossed $8,046 and there were 420 winning tickets on it. The daily double pool was $5,010 and 263 people successfully picked Dr. Dora to win the first and Shifty Sue in the second.

TWO WINNERS FOR WINTLE

Dr. Dora's victory in the first was a well-earned one. She started sixth, moved up to fourth at the half after finding a nice opening, went to the outside of Miss Zephyr for the drive and then passed the latter to win by a half length. She was given a nice ride by T. Wintle, who brought in his first two winners yesterday in the first. Wintle also had a third to come in the money on three of six mounts.

Joe Braddish led the riders yesterday and had his best day of the meet. He rode two winners, three seconds and two show horses to enter the money in every race. His winners were Shifty Sue and Lady Macduff. Taves was the only other jockey to boot home more than one first place horse yesterday.

The Lamotta bout will open Cerdan's goodwill flistic campaign in the United States and Canada, according to Armand Vincent, Montreal promoter who has the Algerian knockout artist under contract.

Cerdan, first "European" fighter to visit the United States since Pearl harbor, will fly from Casa Blanca, Morocco, to New York. He has a priority on transportation, since he is coming in a semi official capacity as a representative of Gen. Charles de Gaulle's French provisional government. He is at Casa Blanca now.

ESCAPED FROM PRISON CAMP

MAULING MARCEL, who amazed Jack Sharkey and Fidel La Barba with his prowess as he won the big inter Allied boxing tournament at Algiers last February, also amazed the Nazis six months after they took Paris, when he and two navy companions escaped from La Grande Caserne St. Denis prison camp in Paris and crossed the English channel in a rowboat, to join the de Gaulles. They spent two and a half days on the rough channel.

Cerdan, who was born in Sidel Bel Abbes, Algeria, 26 years ago, was a professional fighter before the war. He fought for the late Jeff Dickson in Paris. According to Vincent, he has had 103 professional bouts, and lost but two—both on low blows in Paris. More than half of his victories were knockouts, achieved partially by his terrific body punching.

Vincent describes Marcel as a handsome, beautifully proportioned chap with curly black hair and large black eyes. He registers 157 pounds on five feet 10 1/2 inches. Despite his good looks, Vincent emphasizes, he does not try to emulate Georges Carpentier, the "orchid man" who was a fancy Dan with the ladies. Carpentier came over from France in 1921 and was knocked out by Jack Dempsey, after attracting the first $1,000,000 gate. Cerdan is happily married. His wife will not make the trip; however Marcel will be accompanied by his manager, Lucien Roupp.

SIGNS WITH JACOBS
TO insure the success of Cerdan's campaign, Vincent Monday signed a contract giving Mike Jacobs exclusive rights to his services in the United States and Canada. Pete Reilly, veteran New York boxing manager, will act as Cerdan's American agent.

Explaining the Jacobs contract, slender, middle aged Vincent of the small black mustache said, "I had offers from promoters all over the United States and Canada; but I thought it best to tie up with Jacobs because he did such an excellent job with Joe Louis."

If Cerdan beats Lamotta of the Bronx, as expected Vincent is confident that the U.S. navy will permit middleweight champion Tony Zale to defend his title against the Algerian in a big international goodwill bout.

Gerdan's schedule will include a war bond bout at Montreal in October or November.

Vincent concluded, "I have seen Cerdan fight many times. He is one of the greatest fighters ever developed in Europe—where he did practically all of his pre war boxing. American fight fans will love him because of his punching and his modest personality. He will make many friends for the Free French."

Gives Browns 6-5 Victory

BOSTON, Aug. 15.—(AP)—St. Louis Browns, paced by a grand slam swat by shortstop Vernon Stephens, defeated the Red Sox 6-5 Tuesday and maintained their American League lead of 6 1/2 games.

The victory also gave the Browns an even division in their four-game series with the Sox.

Yank Terry sailed along nicely, apparently secure with a 5-0 lead, until the fifth when the Browns scored one run.

But in the sixth the roof fell in on Terry, when the Browns scored five runs on four hits and two passes.

Milt Brynes led off with a walk. Don Gutteridge scratched a double into left and George McQuinn walked. Then Stephens drove the first pitch into the left screen for his second grand slam home run of the year against the Sox.

Red Barrett replaced Terry and was greeted by Gene Moore's single. Moore scored the winning run on Al Zarilla's double.

Three Officers Are Back in City From Overseas

Three RCAP officers arrived back in Edmonton Wednesday morning after almost three years' overseas service. They are P.O. A. F. Dodd, 10241 123 street; P.O. L. Dove, 12908 131 street; P.O. J. A. Campbell, 10057 94 street.
Pilot Officer Dove is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Dove. Trained at Edmonton and Yorkton he went overseas in September, 1941, as a fighter pilot but was injured shortly after going into action. Since then he has served as a staff pilot.
Pilot Officer Campbell, son of Mrs. J. Campbell, a former employee of The Edmonton Bulletin enlisted in October, 1940. He has about 1,000 hours in training command overseas.
Flying Officer Dodd, an observer, completed two tours of operations with bomber command on Wellingtons and then Mosquitos. He says that "nothing much" ever happened to him but of the raids on Berlin in which he participated he said "that was good".

MOTHER IN ENGLAND

His mother, Mrs. Isabel Dodd lives at Newcastle-on-Tyne, England. He was living in Canada when war broke out and enlisted in the RCAP at Toronto in June, 1940. He trained at Regina and Edmonton.
He is spending a month's leave with his fiancée's parents, Dr. and Mrs. R. S. Decker. Plans for his marriage to Miss Beth Decker are being made for the end of this week.
After a month's leave the three officers will report to Ottawa for Canadian postings.

THE QUESTION
What do you think of the prime minister's announcement that at next session of parliament he will sponsor a move to make members' $4,000 indemnities tax-free?

THE ANSWERS
L. P. DANIS, civil servant: That's a question the House of Commons members will have to decide for themselves. It will be a contentious question, one that will provoke much controversy through the whole country. No matter what decision is made, it will be the wrong one.

ROBERT McKENNA, visitor: If $4,000 is to be made tax-free for members of parliament, how about me? After all, the expenses of low-salary workers at home are in the same approximate scale as those in Ottawa on $4,000 a year. I don't think the plan will be popular.

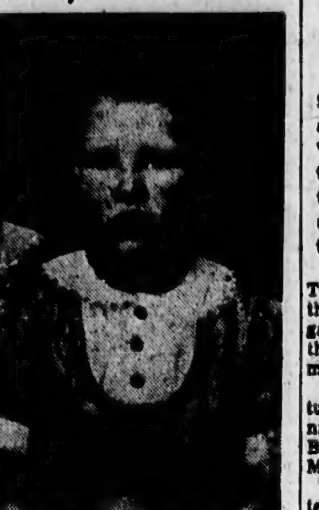

D. ROBERTS, agent: I think our members will pass that one around like the proverbial "hot potato". They no doubt need the exemption, but if they support the plan they will lose workers' votes right and left. With things as they are, the measure should be a post-war matter, not one for immediate attention.

Premier Leaves For Coast Visit

Premier Ernest Manning left Edmonton Wednesday for a short vacation at the Pacific coast. In his absence, Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, will be acting premier. Mr. Manning will return to duties here in two weeks' time.

Fully Recovered

Darcy Rosovsky, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Rosovsky, formerly of Provost and now of Millet, who was a city visitor over the week-end. Early in July she contracted anthrax as a result of a bite by a cat. Special flights by RCAP planes carried both penicillin and anthrax serum to the Provost hospital. Two hours after the first serum injection she showed improvement. With her parents and favorite doll she visited friends in the city, including those in The Edmonton Bulletin news room, who had followed her brave fight with admiration.

U.S. WAC's Coming Here in October

Sometime in October the uniform of the U.S. Women's Army Corps will be added to the variety already to be seen on the streets of Edmonton. According to an announcement in North Star, Alaskan Division, ATC paper, word from Washington indicates that the first contingent will arrive about the beginning of October.

Base commanders at Fairbanks, Whitehorse and Edmonton have acknowledged that quarters are available for the WAC personnel, but the stations at which they'll be based hasn't been decided.
Maj. Geraldine P. May, WAC director for ATC is conducting an inspection tour of the Alaskan Division to determine the full extent to which WAC personnel can be utilized.

The women will receive the same 20 per cent increase in pay for foreign service as their G.I. brothers. At the present time it is improbable that the Wacs will replace enlisted men as they will be used to fill existing vacancies.

New Youth Club Formed in City

"Teen-agers" should be interested in the formation of a new club the "Teen Age Club," sponsored by the YMCA and directed by Bruce Alloway, to provide entertainment and recreational facilities for young people.

The club has been planned in co-operation with an advisory council, made up of men of the YMCA and the YWCA.
Meetings are held on Tuesdays at 7:30 p.m. at the YMCA. There is dancing, games and refreshments.
All young people who are interested are invited to attend as more members are wanted.

Alleges Attack: Seeks Damages

Alleging that he received serious bodily injuries as a result of an attack made on him, Louis K. Ciechanowski, Thorby district farmer, started action against Wasy Dobianski and his daughter, Mary Dobianski, seeking $2,210 special and general damages. The statement of claim was filed by the law firm of Jackson & McDonald.

It is alleged in the statement of claim filed in Supreme court Tuesday, that the Dobianski father and daughter attacked the plaintiff as he was returning to his farm from Thorby village.
The two defendants were prosecuted under the criminal code for the assault and were both found guilty and fined. Mary Dobianski was fined $25 and costs, and Wasy Dobianski $15.

Land Department Sales Are Brisk

Edmonton's land department did a steady business in the sale of city owned property during the period Aug. 1 to Aug. 15 with 64 parcels of land being disposed of for a total sale value of $19,925.
Of the 64 sales made, 45 were for dwellings. The average cost of the proposed homes is approximately $3,000, an official of the land department stated.
Ten of the sales were to purchasers desirous of extending their homesites, one was for market gardening purposes, and another was of an existing dwelling. The lumber firm, Eiter and McDougall, purchased property on Kingsway to extend its plant at this location.

Served in Italy: Officer Is Home

Capt. Lloyd D. Publicover, son of Mrs. Elsie Publicover, 9817 93 avenue, who was mentioned in dispatches in July, 1943, is at home in Edmonton, on leave.

The veteran who has been overseas for four years with the Royal Canadian Engineers, was among the first to land in Sicily, and continued with the invasion forces until shortly before the fall of Rome. All he had to say about his service with the RCE in Sicily and Italy was that it was lots of good hard work for the engineers, and some of it close to and in the front lines.

A graduate of the University of Alberta in engineering, Captain Publicover enlisted in the ranks. He was commissioned as a second lieutenant with the RCE in 1940. He was promoted to the rank of lieutenant Nov. 26, 1940. On his arrival overseas he was appointed to staff learner, and was promoted to the rank of captain in February, 1943, with the 3rd Field Company, RCE.

Damage Action Result of Accident

Seeking special and general damages of $15,334.85 action was started in supreme court Tuesday by the law firm of Parlee, Smith, Clement and Parlee on behalf of Mordahl C. Johnson, Lacrosse, Wis., an employee of the Miller Construction Co., who was engaged in the construction of a telephone line along the route of the Northern Alberta Railway at the time of the accident.

It is alleged that the defendant, Kenneth Worthing, Smith district resident, negligently drove his automobile into a trailer being pulled by a truck motor on the railway, spilling the 13 occupants of the trailer onto the railway right of way. The accident occurred about three miles south of Smith on Aug. 13, 1943.

The plaintiff, it is alleged, received injuries which will permanently cripple him, and will prohibit his again following his occupation of telephone line. Estimated general damages, $5,000 for loss of wages, and $534.85 for medical expenses incurred as a result of the accident.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Let Serviceman Alone
To Make His Own Plans

Give Him Time to Be With His Family and Do What He Wants When He Comes Home on Furlough

DEAR MISS DIX: Can you not say something in your column that will make kind and well-meaning friends and relatives show some mercy to the boys who come home on furlough? As it is, the minute a lad gets off the train they practically kidnap him. They drag him about from place to place and party to party without reference to his own desires or consideration for his family. They never leave him alone for a moment or give him any rest so the whole purpose of his furlough is frustrated.

As soon as our boy comes home our relatives, and even the boys he went to school with descend on him in droves. If he stays home on an evening, they jam the house so that we never get a private word with him. They insist on taking him out and making the rounds of taverns and nightclubs. He hates drink and loathes the whole proceeding. When he tries to get out of going to places they won't take "no" for an answer.

Of course, they do this as a compliment and it makes it impossible for us to defend him or ourselves against them. But why can't they realize that he wants to be at home with his own people and that we want to see him after he has been gone so many months?

HIS MOTHER.

Answer: It was a wise man who prayed God to protect him from his friends because he could defend himself against his enemies. And in truth we are helpless before the good, kind people whose motives we appreciate and whose feelings we do not wish to hurt when they force their unwelcome attentions upon us.

And that is what happens to the poor, exhausted, bored service men when they come home on furloughs they have looked forward to so long. They are never left alone a minute. They are dragged from place to place. They are stuffed until they feel they never want to see another plate of food again. People buy them drinks that they don't want. The survivors of every war since the Civil War come and reminisce about how they fought at Vimy Ridge or Paschendaele. Mama has promised that they shall speak before her Missionary Society and Dad shows them off before the Rotary Club. And when the furlough is up, the poor heroes feel as if they had fought their battles all over again.

And there is nothing they can do about it. One can only beg the friends and neighbors to have a heart and leave the lads alone with their own people whom they have not seen for so long and whom they may never see again.

FORGETS

DEAR MISS DIX: I have a husband who is devoted, loving and generous but who forgets special dates like anniversaries, birthdays, etc. I try not to let it hurt my feelings too much, but when he does not remember me on such occasions it leaves me irritable and unhappy. Except for this our marriage is perfect and if I could find some remedy for his unintentional thoughtlessness I would be completely happy.

FORGOTTEN WIFE

Answer: The princess in the fairy tale who searched and searched until she found a crumpled rose leaf under her forty mattresses of ease has nothing on you as a trouble borrower when you let your husband's forgetting to send you an anniversary present ruin a perfectly good marriage. You would get a just punishment if your felly made him forget you for some woman who appreciated him.

Unfortunately other men have wives who have the same phobia that you have. The way to get around it is to have their secretaries write down the sacrosanct anniversaries and send an appropriate gift for the occasion.

PRIVILEGES

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: What privileges should a girl of 20, who holds a responsible position in the business world and who pays board, have when she lives at home?

M.M. Answer: Those of a star boarder, I should say. A girl of 20 is legally of age and if she is self-supporting, she is on her own and she has a right to her own pocketbook and to her own independence as long as she keeps within the bounds of good taste and decent behavior. But as long as a girl stays at home, her family always regard her as a child and treat her as if she were one, no matter how old she is.

Having a right to privileges is one thing. Getting them is something else again in the home circle.

THESE WOMEN!

"Would you mind awfully, Alvin, if we just spend a quiet evening here at home?"

VITAMIN A IN YOUR DAILY DIET

Butter, the richest food source of vitamin A, is not indispensable in the family dietary on that account.

If the price of oleomargarine is low enough to make its use instead of butter a saving, all hands will be quite as well nourished if the table provides reasonable amounts of other good sources of vitamin A—such as cheese, genuine, not processed, milk and milk products, animal liver, kidneys, egg yolks, most of the green and yellow vegetables, tomatoes and tomato juice (fresh or canned), ripe banana. Not only whole milk, but also cream, skim milk and buttermilk (genuine) and skim milk (too often regarded as unfit for human nutrition) are good food sources of vitamin A.

In recent years a great many margarine manufacturers, with permission of the government, add what I consider an insignificant dab of vitamin A—9,000 units per pound—to their product. I regard 1½ ounces of butter or oleomargarine or other fat as a pretty hefty quantity.

shown today, which came up in this year's Vanderbilt Cup Tournament.

The bidding was very bullish, but East and West were 1500 points behind and this was the last hand of the match for them. Amazingly, with the help of a pardonable slip on the part of South, they made the slam doubled, winning the match by 160 points.

Declarer allowed the spade eight to hold the first trick. South studied a long time, then decided that his safest return was a spade. Dummy's ace won and now West just ran eight heart tricks. When the last heart was led, there remained in dummy the ace, ten and nine of clubs and diamond king, while South held the spade queen, diamond ace and king-queen of clubs. The diamond king was discarded from dummy and South discarded the ace of diamonds. Declarer then led the diamond jack and South discarded the spade queen. The four of spades in declarer's hand won the twelfth trick and the club ace the thirteenth.

Your Baby
And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDERD

The baby's daily bath is a habit very nearly as important as his eating and sleeping.

Not that he is dirty, or seems to need all the scrubbing he gets, but he would soon be a sorry sight (and smell) if he weren't bathed daily and he needs not only the comfort of being clean but the stimulation his skin gets and the soothing his nerves receive when he is bathed.

Until the cord drops off he should have only a sponge bath. Then he may be introduced to the small tub and will enjoy it or fear it according to his first experience with it.

Children fear being plunged into deep water and they will be terrified if their bath water is too hot or too cold. Since a mother's elbow used to all kinds of temperatures, may be an unreliable testing agent, purchase a bath thermometer and see that the bath water is from 98 to 100 degrees. It will be just right for baby's comfort if it is.

Get through the preliminaries before baby is uncovered. Wash the face in clear water and wipe dry. Scrub the head well—with particular attention to the "soft spots" and rinse and dry it with a warm towel. Then dip separate pieces of cotton in salt or boracic acid solution and wipe the eyes clean. Use cotton-wrapped toothpicks dipped in oil to soften and wipe out the crusts in baby's small nose and another oiled bit of cotton to wipe back of baby's ears and around the deep folds. Put nothing at all in the ear.

It is the custom now to leave the mouth alone unless the doctor has ordered differently. Thrush or sprue, which arises chiefly from carelessness in keeping bottles, nipples or breast-nipples clean, needs medical attention.

When all of these are attended to, soap the baby all over quickly and lower him gently into the warm, shallow water. Hold him securely by grasping his left thigh with the left hand and letting him rest his head on the mother's left arm. This frees her right hand to do the necessary rinsing.

Dried carefully, powdered or oiled as the need may be, fed and laid in his smooth clean bed, he'll be good for at least three hours of restful sleep.

Our leaflet, "The Baby's Bath," will help the new mother prepare all the necessities for this daily ceremony and carry it through expeditiously. It may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Myrtle Meyer Eldred, in care of this newspaper.

For Wheat Is Seen

REGINA, Aug. 18.—(CP)—Agriculture Minister Gardiner, in an interview here yesterday, said discussions among wheat-growing and wheat-exporting countries of the world will result in a satisfactory floor price being established for wheat after the war and the plan would be announced from London "in due course." He said Canada was participating in the discussions but that at present he could not reveal details.

Debunker

Many people have experienced painful suffering as a result of believing that sunburn is not so likely on hazy, partly cloudy days as on clear ones. The truth is that on days when the sky is clear blue color (really black) the sun has much less burning power than when the sky is pale and whitish. The amount of dust in the atmosphere also affects burning, as do the air masses that sometimes move down from the north polar region in summer and clear up the sky. The sun has six times the burning power in summer as in winter.

The rose is a symbol of silence and gave rise to the phrase "sub rosa," meaning "under the rose" or in secret.

Fall Imminent

Canadians Clean Out
Resistance at Falaise

By WILLIAM A. WILSON

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
Copyright, 1944, by British United Press

CANADIAN FIRST ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Normandy, Aug. 16.—The fall of Falaise, already neutralized as a German communications centre, was near today as Lt. Gen. H. D. G. Crerar's troops dominated the highway through the town and cleaned up resistance on the northern and western outskirts.

A headquarters staff officer said the Germans can get nothing substantial through Falaise. "They can trickle things through, but that's about all," he told me.

One Canadian Infantry force took up positions west of Falaise during the night and others established themselves due north of the town.

GAP NEARLY CLOSED

Though the Germans still have armored forces in the Falaise-Argentan gap, now only about six miles wide, the bottleneck is pretty well closed with the enemy depending on lanes and rough cross-roads for movement.

Canadian troops captured Ussy, northwest of Falaise, last night and occupied Aubigny and St. Pierre Canivet on the main Caen-Falaise road. A threatened German counter-attack from the woods facing our armored forces failed to materialize late yesterday after the area was attacked by squadrons of Typhoons which rocketed the woods thoroughly.

The results were only partially observed but flames and smoke shot up and four wrecked tanks were seen by our pilots.

MAIN MOVEMENT

The main German movement within the bag has been towards the bottleneck but not through it and the main German effort has been to prevent a northward movement by the Americans on the southern boundary of the gap.

It is not yet clear, at least to correspondents, what the Germans will try to do with their force in the bag which contains elements of armored and infantry divisions, some of which are in good shape but others seriously depleted of men and equipment. There are numerous trails and secondary roads through the Falaise-Argentan gap on which a certain amount of movement could be carried out.

Much of our movement has been across-country and on secondary roads so obviously the enemy is able to make similar use of secondary communications.

Nazi Ships Blasted
By British Force

LONDON, Aug. 18.—(CP)—A British-Canadian naval force, led by the cruiser Mauritius, damaged seven German supply ships and other vessels and scored hits on a destroyer in three engagements yesterday off the naval base of La Rochelle, between Nantes and Bordeaux, the admiralty announced last night.

The British force suffered neither casualties nor damage, the communiqué said.

The Canadian destroyer Iroquois and the British destroyer Ursa made up the force led by the Mauritius.

The Iroquois was commanded by Cmdr. J. C. Hibbard, who won the DSC while serving in the Canadian destroyer Skeena in the early part of the war. Details of the Iroquois' individual part in the action were not immediately available.

German Prisoners
End Strike in U.S.

STOCKTON, Calif., Aug. 18.—(AP)—German prisoners of war, employed at the army ordnance depot, ended their strike yesterday.

About 500 of the 1,800 quit Monday, protesting the war department's order increasing the work day to nine hours. The entire group was put on restricted rations and confined to the stockade. Yesterday their spokesman said the Germans were ready to resume regular employment. They also asked resumption of regular meals.

Family Woes Are Analyzed

By HELEN BANNERMAN
OTTAWA, Aug. 16—(CP)—Keeping the home fires burning for the overseas fighting man with domestic troubles is the daily work of an unsung section under the Dependents' Allowance Board—government agency which sees that the Johnny Canuck's next-of-kin is cared for while he is away.

The Family Welfare Section, described by its chief, Miss Ruth Harvey of Westmount, Que., as the "Hudson office between the Board and the rest of Canada," has the job of ironing out difficulties in a serviceman's family and sending him detailed reports of its work.

"The board and its sections here at the Records Building have a great task in helping the men's morale and they do far more than just hand out cheques each month," Miss Harvey told The Canadian Press. "We think it's a pretty big job."

Her desk, constantly piled with servicemen's files to which red "urgent" cards are clipped, shows a cross-section of her work. There are letters from servicemen asking the Board's help in domestic entanglements, letters from social service agencies reporting on what they have been able to accomplish in such cases, and letters Miss Harvey or one of her assistants has drafted giving full reports to servicemen's families.

TYPICAL CASE
The case of Mrs. H. was in front of Miss Harvey as she talked. Called in by a worried soldier in Italy, the section got in touch with Mrs. H. through one of Canada's recognized social service agencies, and it was found necessary to administer her allowance until she could get on her feet. The agency's report said in part:

"The family's living conditions have improved from one room in the basement of a disreputable rooming-house to a five-roomed modern bungalow. Their home has been completely furnished. Mrs. H. has more incentive to keep her home looking attractive, the family's diet has improved and the children look better."

"When we took over the administration there were more than $200 in debts, which we have narrowed down to $45.50."

Future Security Depends Upon Nutrition Now Says Authority

By GAYNOR MADDOX
WASHINGTON, D.C., Aug. 16—Will Americans eat better at their postwar tables?

"Maybe," says Dr. Hazel K. Stiebeling, the new chief of the Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics, U.S. Department of Agriculture. But she warns of obstacles.

Stiebeling (among scientists there is no Mister, or Missus, or Miss) knows the nutritional score in the United States, Europe and South America. Her job is to contain the one federal bureau 100 per cent devoted to solving problems women meet every day in their homes. These include food and nutrition, textiles and clothing, housing, and family economics.

UNDERSTANDING
"There has been a great increase in the public's understanding of the vital facts of nutrition. That increase, due largely to the war and scientific education given through community centres, schools, and through state and federal pamphlets written in the language of the average home, is encouraging. But not encouraging enough. I'd say that our first obstacle ahead is that we can't begin with the grandparent."

Stiebeling reports, "Too many of them are persistently ignorant of the basic rules of good nutritional habits with children. Of course parents and grandparents want their children to grow up with vigorous health. They feed babies under a doctor's guidance. But when they are old enough they begin to copy the poor eating habits of their parents."

She adds: "The spoken and unspoken attitudes of the man of the family have great influence on children's eating habits. When soldier-fathers return, many of them will have learned the value of good food in keeping fit. But don't over-of the Montreal School of Social Work.

"It is a serious thing to take away a woman's right to handle her own money, so it must be for a serious reason—only if the home would be broken up or the children neglected if she muddled along by herself," said Miss Parr.

The greatest care is taken in all administration cases supervised by her section. Minute semi-annual reports must be checked and double-checked and other reports sent regularly to the servicemen overseas.

"Our object is to teach the wife to handle her own money and very few of them have needed our help longer than two years," she said.

look the fact that soldiers are a specialized group," she warns. Internationally noted as a food economist, it was Stiebeling who first demonstrated in 1936 that one-third of the people in the United States were ill fed. Her researches have been a basis for wartime civilian feeding.

"Many facts are as true today as in 1936 and 1941," she says. "But a smaller proportion of families are poorly fed. The overall civilian food supply is more abundant and represents better combinations. We have more milk—but still not enough. The enrichment of white bread and family-type flour has greatly increased our overall consumption of thiamin. Although the demand for certain foods often exceeded the available supply, there has at all times been enough good food."

POST WAR EATING
Whether our postwar eating will continue good, or even better, depends on whether people have jobs and incomes large enough to buy the right kind of food, Stiebeling believes. "If they demand and can pay for nutritionally valuable diets, farmers will produce them. As it is, I think farmers have often gone ahead of consumers in trying to raise crops with the biggest, nutritional value."

Stiebeling believes good nutrition is just as important to our future security as it is to the fighting fitness of the boys now invading Europe. "If we can't keep up the purchasing power of consumers after the war, the nation would be smart to develop some special program for getting children, pregnant and nursing mothers, and heavy industry workers enough to eat. That would be a form of national insurance."

STRIKING FURS FOR WINTER 1944-45

Shown here is a beautifully matched silver muskrat with wide tuxedo revers, typical of the fur coats to be seen going everywhere this winter. Fashioned in fine quality, long-wearing skins with an eye for versatility, warmth and beauty, fur coats will be the highlight of winter fashions for 1944-45. No more sharp lines or rigid bulk, but suppleness is the keynote to fine furs for the next season.

Many Canadians Killed, Wounded By RAF Planes

TORONTO, Aug. 16.—(CP)—Ralph Allen, Globe and Mail war correspondent in France, said today in a copyright story that an estimated 500 loads of bombs fell prematurely from RAF supporting aircraft yesterday on Canadian positions north of Falaise, and that "many" were killed, "many" wounded and some shell-shocked.

"For periods ranging from a few minutes to the full hour and five minutes it took to call off an attack by more than 700 bombers that had somehow gone astray, troops as much as four miles behind the target areas felt the full weight of the most devastating weapon in military history," Allen said.

ACCURATE AT FIRST

The first squadron of RAF Lancasters dropped its bombs with perfect accuracy on German positions in the vicinity of Quenney Wood, 2½ miles from an observation post where he was watching, Allen said.

Then, somehow, the British heavies changed their course slightly and the bombs began falling in the Canadian lines. He and some score other persons tumbled into a dugout.

"I counted 100 bombs that fell within what I judged to be an area of 100 yards of the dugout," Allen said.

Last week Maj.-Gen. R. F. L. Keller, Kelowna, B.C., commander of the 3rd Canadian division, was wounded when United States bombers made a similar mistake in the same area.

Earlier in the Normandy campaign, American bombers attacking around St. Lo prior to the American break-through there dropped bombs short of their targets and casualties included Lt.-Gen. Leslie J. McNair of the United States army, who was injured fatally.

BOMBING SAID RESULT OF MISCALCULATION

By WILLIAM STEWART
WITH THE 1ST CANADIAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 16.—(CP)—Apparent miscalculation of position over the smoking, dusty slopes north of Falaise caused RAF heavy bombers to unleash some bombs into the 1st Canadian army area Monday while the army's second major operation was in progress.

A preliminary estimate was that casualties among personnel of Allied formations in the accidentally bombed area were minor but the number of injured is expected to be raised following a checkup.

EQUIPMENT DAMAGED

In addition some of our equipment was damaged.
The bombing occurred while the heavies were carrying out one of the close-support attacks which have been a feature of operations in Normandy.

Lt. Gen. Crerar, who watched the bombing from an aircraft, estimated 80 per cent of the bombs were dropped in the enemy area. The last formation of Lancasters and Halifaxes were ordered to cancel their flights before they crossed the channel.

Reaction of the Canadian, British and Allied troops in the area which was hit was dismay. However, except for temporary disruption of communications the bombing had little effect on the advance toward Falaise.

BOMBS FELL SHORT

I was leaving an observation post when the first string of bombs fell short. Previously I had seen two formations of bombers blast a German strong point in Quenney Wood and a third was on its way and had started to bomb when I left with my companions in a jeep.

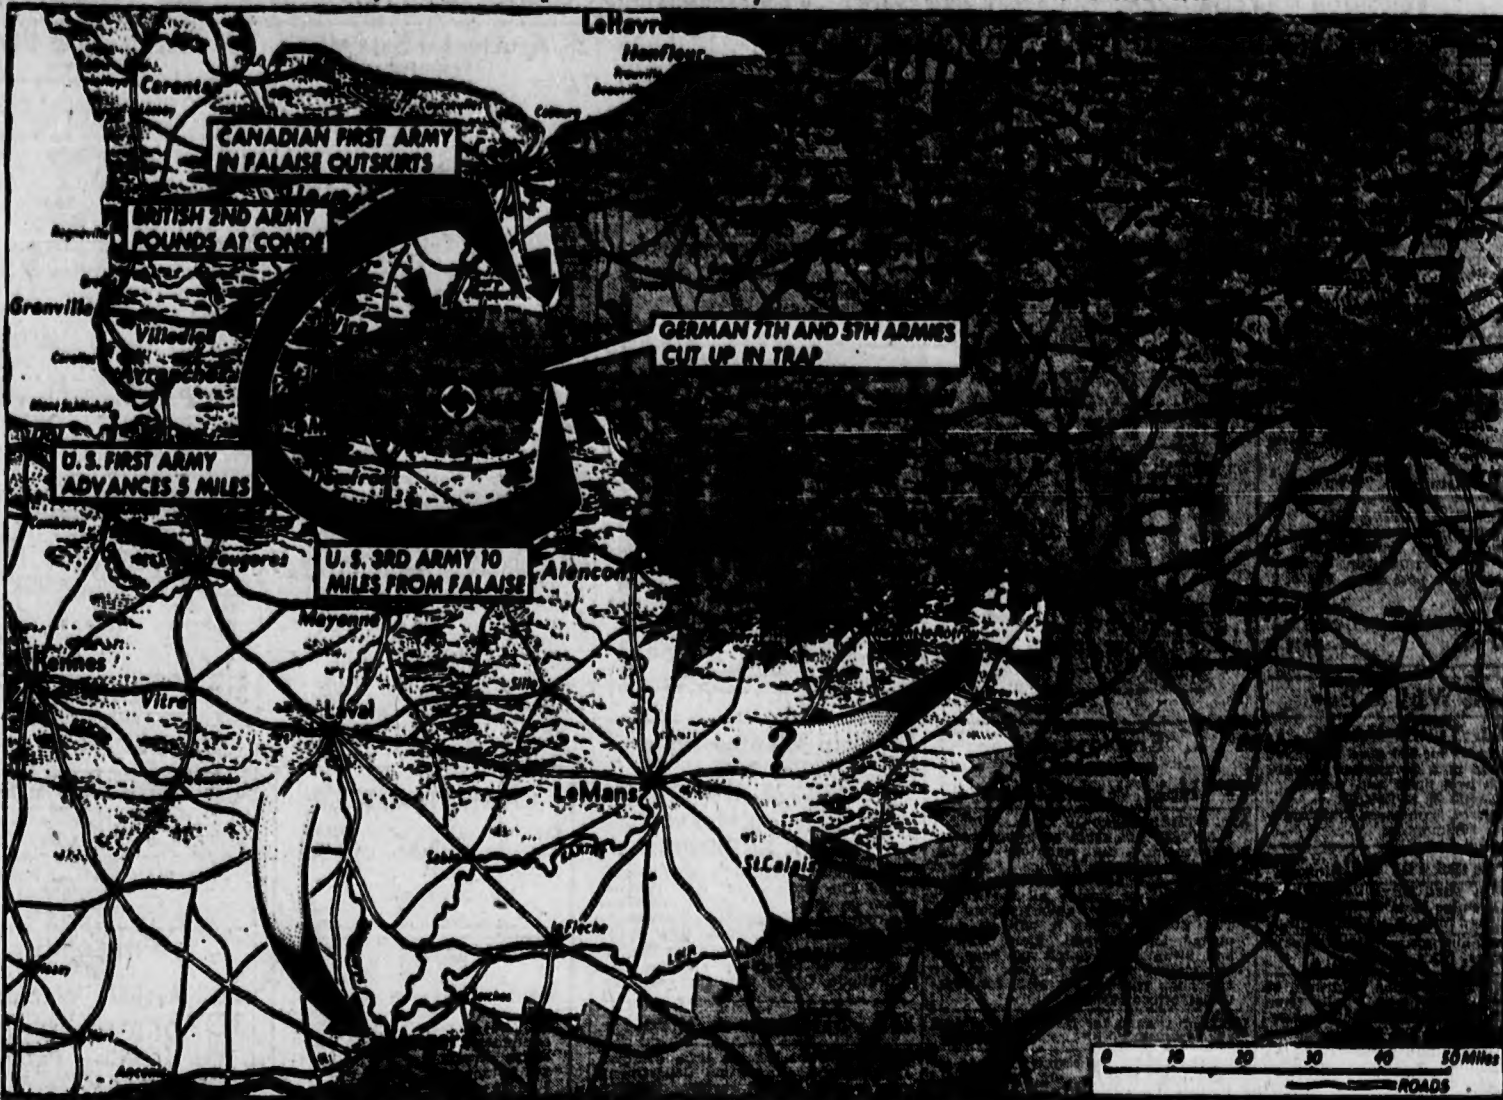

We passed a quarry where some bombs fell later and where a senior air officer was watching.

As our jeep travelled up the highway toward Caen there was a string of heavy explosions off to the right which I mistook for a concentration of enemy shells. We kept going in the direction of Caen and there was another series of explosions much nearer.

"Those are our bombs!" explained correspondent Alan Wood of the London Daily Express.

the highway peering over the edge of ditches at the clouds of dust and smoke rising high above some trees about half a mile to the east.

STILL ANOTHER STRING

There were still another string of explosions as we raced along and this time waves of falling dirt thrown by the bombs pattered along the roadside.

Yesterday a senior Canadian staff officer said the patterns of roads, woods and ground features where the bombs fell was an approximate duplicate of the actual target area behind the enemy lines.

Efforts are being made to devise a system of giving bomber crews ground guidance and preventing a repetition of the tragedy.

In Many Actions Members of Huron's Crew Return Home

By JOHN LEBLANC
AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, Aug. 16.—(CP)—Veterans of hot action from the Murmansk convoy route to the flanks of the Normandy invasion flotilla, members of the crew of the Canadian tribal class destroyer Huron have returned to Canada on leave and the enemy will probably be happy to learn this.

For while they were hunting trouble up and down the channel coasts, they sank two of the enemy's ships—trawlers—shared in the destruction of two of his carefully-berthed destroyers and did damage to several others. In return, their ship absorbed nothing more than a few splinter holes from near misses.

On invasion day and afterwards, the Huron's job was to provide the western end of the assault area to intercept any German surface vessels trying to get into the English channel. Another Canadian tribal—HMCS Haida—was in the British Canadian flotilla doing this job.

TREMENDOUS THRILL

"We didn't run into a thing on invasion day," said Cmdr. H. R. Rayner, DSC, RCN, Huron's young skipper, "although we did get a tremendous thrill out of watching scores of planes carrying the airborne troops passing over us a few hours before the dawn of D-day."

After a quiet couple of days following the invasion, Rayner said, Huron and her companion ships finally got action when they intercepted a force of four German destroyers trying to break into the Channel from the Atlantic on the night of July 5.

One of the Germans was sunk early in the action. Haida and Huron chased two others back the way they had come, until they were out of range. Coming back, they picked up the fourth one, and he raced for Cherbourg putting up a running fight.

GOT OUT OF RANGE

He eventually got out of range, but tried to sneak back through the Canadians at dawn. "We had him pinned," the commander said. "He either had to come at us or head for the beach. He hit the beach at 20 knots. By then, he was on fire, and we plastered him until he was well along."

The other two managed to make brief contact in damaged condition, but they did not venture out again—at least, not while the Huron's men were around.

The strategic value of the action was to break off the Nazi surface threat to the invasion from the western end.

In April, with the Haida, HMCS Athabaskan—later sunk—and Royal Navy vessels, she met up with four Nazi destroyers, one of which was sunk and the others chased home.

Among her officers is Lt. W. H. Howe, son of Munitions Minister C. D. Howe. He is torpedo control and signals officer.

CALGARY, Aug. 16.—(CP)—Damage amounting to $360 occurred yesterday when Elmo Mathfield, Lehighville, driving a truck, collided with M. C. French, Edmonton, who was driving an automobile.

FIRST WIRELESS OPERATORS

Before the Magistrate

William Ward pleaded guilty to theft of a quantity of meat and two balls of string from a local packing house when he appeared before Magistrate A. I. Miller, K.C., Wednesday morning. He was fined $10 or 14 days.

Ward, employed at the plant cleaning up meat trimmings, put some meat into a bag, along with the twine, and, when he removed some waste to the incinerator, carried the bag along and tossed it into a bush nearby. He said he thought it was waste meat, and he took it for his own use. Mr. Miller thought the accused knew what he was doing, as he had taken the string as well.

Evidence was heard in the case of Angus McLellan, charged on nine counts of shopbreaking, illegal possession of a firearm, and possession of stolen property. He pleaded guilty to all. City police referred to finding the accused in possession of the gun, a registration certificate and an army discharge paper not in his own name.

RCMP told of the accused's admission of theft of about $500 in cash, $1,500 in bonds and $300 in war savings certificates, and the subsequent cashing of $800 worth of the bonds in Calgary. From a Gleichen premises, he allegedly took $1,100 in bonds and cash, while another $150 in bonds from a lumber yard office at another Alberta point were taken and cashed at Calgary and Vancouver. In each case, the money obtained by the accused had been spent.

The case was remanded while McLellan decides whether or not he will assist police in tracing another $600 worth of bonds whose whereabouts had not been learned.

10,000 Casualties

LONDON, Aug. 16.—(CP)—July air raids on the United Kingdom cost nearly 10,000 civilian casualties, the Ministry of Home Security announced yesterday. Of the number 2,441 were listed as killed or missing, and 7,107 injured and detained in hospitals. Presumably most of the casualties were the result of flying bomb attacks.

Dismiss Charges

SIDNEY, B.C., Aug. 16.—(CP)—Theft charges against seven air men were dismissed by Justice of the Peace F. J. Baker in police court here yesterday. The men were charged with theft of the Royal Canadian Air Force equipment from a west coast station.

"Cracker-Jack" Weapon Rocket Projectile No.1 Tank Buster

By ALAN RANDAL
LONDON, Aug. 16.—(CP)—The rocket projectile, used with such devastating effect against German armor in Normandy, began its service career in Britain as an ack-ack weapon in the dark days of the great raids.

It ranks today as the Allies' No. 1 tank-busting weapon and Canadian airmen flying rocket-firing Typhoons have found the Germans now hate and fear the "R.P." most of all. Group Capt. Paul Deved, DSO, DFC, of Kingston, Ont., who helped in the early plans for tactical training in the use of this arm, calls it a "cracker-jack" weapon against tanks.

The rocket projectile was first produced in Britain by Sir Alwyn Crow, controller of projectile development to the ministry of supply in 1940. It was to fill the gap left by Britain's lack of guns to combat the German raids.

TRIUMPHANT SUCCESS

The rocket projectiles were a triumphant success in close support of the ground forces in battle on the very day the last Hurricanes were delivered to the RAF from the factory assembly belt—almost two years to the day from the moment they were first put into experimental practice on Hurricanes.

Most responsible for the development of the rocket projectile in its present stage is Group Capt. John D'Arcy Baker-Carr, AFC. He and his "backroom boys" worked unrelentingly to put the weapon across.

Two weeks after D-Day, a flight of Typhoons on armed reconnaissance over France were given a number of alternative targets.

The Typhoon pilots found none of the targets specified but found three Tiger tanks and knocked them all on their sides out of action. The "Rockphoon" had arrived.

To Control CN Trains by Radio
MONTREAL, Aug. 16.—Radio communication was introduced to Canadian railroading for the first time Tuesday when the Canadian National Railways, in co-operation with the Canadian Marconi Company, started a series of tests of the transmitting and receiving equipment developed during the present war. The principle is similar to that employed by the tank units of the Allied armies at the front.

Two Canadian National locomotives, a diesel and an electric, which operated in the electrified area of the Montreal terminals, were specially equipped, and for the next few weeks their respective engineers will proceed in and out of the busy terminal on instructions received by radio instead of the customary written train orders and signals. It is anticipated that this new system will considerably speed up train movement and will also effect greater operating economy and efficiency.

McClay Health Service
In today's article I am going to tell you about a very simple, and at the same time, successful, home help to better health. This is the sponge bath.

Those of you who have studied the general regimens which I suggest for building better health are aware that in my suggestions on the daily regimen I advise that the patient secure a sponge or shower bath. The value of such bathing comes from the power of stimulating the skin to eliminate waste material very rapidly.

The warm or tepid sponge bath is one of the most practical forms of bathing as it may be recommended for both the weak and the strong, the sick and the well. A glowing skin reaction will be obtained in all cases where the sponge bath is properly taken and this means that the circulation has been improved.

The healthy person who lacks the equipment for taking a quick shower will find that the sponge bath will make a good substitute which may be used just before dinner in the evening when he is tired after the day's work.

The sponge bath requires little in the way of equipment—all that you need is a large pan (or foot tub), two towels, one washcloth, a cake of soap and warm water. You do not need to hesitate because you have no sponge. The name "sponge bath" refers to sponging off the skin, not to a bath sponge.

The sponge bath is such a beneficial form of bathing that I am going to tell you exactly how to get the best results from its use. The pan of water should be placed on a chair. Now spread a towel or other covering on the floor to keep from getting it wet. Stand on this towel while you dip the washcloth in the warm water.

It is a good plan to start washing one foot, going up the leg to the knee. Now repeat with the other foot. Cleanse each part well, remembering to rub upward well, the heart. Next, wash the upper legs, then each arm. The chest and abdomen follow, and the back is washed last.

You are now ready to finish the bath by getting fresh water and doing the face and neck. Scrub the skin vigorously, and use soap only on those parts which seem to need it. The surface of the entire body does not need to be soaped every day.

You are now ready to dry the skin, using a heavy bath towel. Rub hard enough to produce redness and to make the skin glow. This sponge bath takes a very short time and will leave you with a refreshed sensation.

The chief thing to keep in mind is to avoid chilling. Remember this one rule and go ahead and sponge off and see how much good you get out of it.

The same bath may be given to a person sick in bed with excellent results.

The sponge bath is not expensive, and it does not take long, but it is of value at all times in toning up the skin. The skin is one of the great eliminative organs of the body and anything which will speed up elimination through this channel is an aid to better health.

All questions regarding health and diet will be answered. Large stamped, self-addressed envelope must be enclosed. Write on one side of paper only. Letters must not exceed 150 words. Address: McClay Health Service, The McClay Building, 1181 West 8th Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

ion of a research laboratory on the campus of the University of Saskatchewan in Saskatoon and $25,000 is provided for salaries of a staff of 50 including 22 graduate scientists. YOU'RE IN THE ARMY NOW

Direct Traffic Over Staging Route

SQDN.-LDR. WATSON

One of the most complicated and at the same time best-organized features of Edmonton Airport activities is the control of landing aircraft. This task is conducted from a specially-constructed portion of the administration section of the building. Sqn.-Ldr. Howard L. Watson, formerly circulation manager of The Edmonton Bulletin, is command flying control officer for the North West Air Command and in charge of all flying control systems on the North West Staging Route. His deputy is Sqn.-Ldr. F. G. Botsford, also of this city.

Flying Control Airways Centre Directs Traffic on North West Staging Route

From the RCAF Flying Control Airways Centre housed in the sleek gray administration building of Edmonton's airport, a small staff of officers, airmen and airwomen of the RCAF's North West Air Command direct the 200-mile an hour traffic of the busiest air line in Canada—the North West Staging Route.

With one glance at his flight progress board, the duty controller at the centre can tell immediately the location of every aircraft—civil or military, Canadian or American—flying over any part of the route at any time of the day or night.

Fighters on their way to Russia, heavy transports hauling freight to Whitehorse and beyond, Trans-Canada Air Lines whisking priority-armed business men into the Yukon all look alike on the board. They are all just another airplane using the airways and requiring the service of the complex, almost fool proof system of traffic and safety control.

Squadron Leader Howard Watson, 11644 83 street, former member of The Edmonton Bulletin circulation staff, is command flying control officer at North West Air Command and as such responsible for all flying control systems along the North West Staging Route. His deputy, Squadron Leader F. G. Botsford, is another Edmontonian whose home is at 9335 107A avenue. He formerly taught at the Garneau Normal school.

DUTY CONTROLLERS

Flying Officer C. G. Small, 10057 118 street, is one of the duty controllers in the airways centre, immediate head of which is Flying Officer Bruce Marshall, who was formerly with the department of transport here. Other Edmonton and district members of the staff of the centre include: LAW, Evelyn Dingman, 12014 91 street; Pilot Officer Lionel Pettigrew, 12410 105 avenue, (who works in the control tower); LAW, Rose Cameron, Winterburn and LAW Evelyn Miller, Box 264, Beverly.

The Edmonton centre is the only full-dress airways traffic control centre in the Royal Canadian Air Force. Taken over by the RCAF a few months ago from the department of transport, its methods are based on standard airways practice which is virtually the same throughout Canada and the United States, so that any professional transport pilot accustomed to flying regular airways can bring his aircraft without difficulty into Edmonton or any of the other airports controlled by the centre.

Inside the centre, the big flight progress board almost fills one side of the room. In front of it stands the duty controller, a telephone in his hand and a small switchboard within easy reach, through which he can get an immediate direct line to any one of a number of radio stations operated by the RCAF, the Department of Transport, the United States Army and each of the civilian airline companies; these stations, in turn, are in constant communication with aircraft flying over the territory.

Every aircraft flying for any purpose whatsoever gets a "clearance" to use the airway before it enters the vast area controlled by the Edmonton centre. From that moment on, a report on its movements reaches the centre from the radio range stations over which it travels.

ESTIMATED TIMES

Estimated times of reaching the next reporting point are included in every report. And if there is no report from the next radio station along the route within a short while after that report was due, the centre gets busy and checks up.

Busiest days for the centre are those on which the clouds hang low over the ground, and most of the flying, especially approaches for landings, must be done on instruments.

Since pilots cannot see what is in the air around them when they are flying through cloud, elaborate precautions are taken to keep aircraft separated to make collision impossible. Aircraft keep to the right of the airway in the same way that automobiles keep to the right of the road. Radio signals let them know if they stray even a short distance off course. Machines going in one direction fly at even thousand-foot altitudes—4,000, 5,000, 6,000 and so on. In the opposite direction they fly at odd thousand-foot altitudes—3,000, 2,000, 1,000. Machines going in the same direction and at the same

59 Juveniles Are Arrested During July

A total of 381 complaints were investigated during the month of July by city detectives, according to the monthly report issued Wednesday by Chief Constable Reginald Jennings. As a result of investigations in this connection, 59 juveniles were placed under arrest.

Common theft complaints were the most numerous of any, with cases totalling 120. Theft of bicycle followed with 33 complaints, while there was a further 27 cases of theft from car or truck. Of the juveniles arrested, 31 were charged with theft.

Other complaints included 31 of lost or stolen property; 21 of housebreaking; 11 of shopbreaking; 14 of assault; 15 of wilful damage. Of the last-named counts, 10 were attributed to juvenile offenders.

During July, property reported as lost or stolen had a value of $11,500. Property recovered was valued at $7,400.

19 PERSONS INJURED
Nineteen persons were injured in a total of 50 traffic accidents during the month. The number of accidents over the preceding month was higher by four, while two persons less were injured in the same.

Traffic tags were "down", with only 201 in July as against 383 in June. Issuing of bicycle tags also was down, with 37 in July against 96 in June. Jay-walkers who were "tagged" numbered seven—a new low for the year.

Uniform men were busy throughout the month, the report showing that no less than 608 calls were responded to in that time. The department investigated 291 complaints and found 80 premises insecure.

Members of the morality squad looked after 47 cases which resulted in fines of $2,000 and costs being paid into the treasury by offenders. Five deaths were reported by the provincial coroner's department. Of these, four were from natural causes, and one by suicide.

$150,421 Estate
CALGARY, Aug. 16.—An aggregate value of $150,421 and a net value of $148,558 was placed on the estate of the late John M. McLeod, Calgary oilman who died June 9, according to a will filed in the probate division of the supreme court. Sole beneficiary is Mrs. Julia McLeod, the widow.

ment afterwards over what it was he actually said at any time. Tucked away behind the flight progress board is an automatic recording machine which records every conversation he has on the telephone. It can be played back any time.
